

Take Control Of Your Locational Footprint

Your information is valuable: Protect it

Your location reveals details about you and your habits like where you live, work, and hang out

1

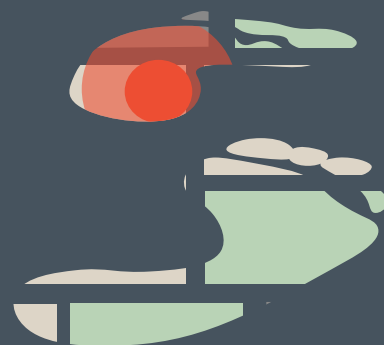

Go through your settings and turn off location services for apps that don't need access

2

Turn off location services for your smart phone or devices when not in use

January 28, 2020

Berkeley Information Security Office

Information Security. Made Bearable.
security.berkeley.edu/toolkits