Think Before You Click

Ransomware typically appears in phishing emails through links to malicious websites or via infected attachments. If you think an email looks suspect:

Report it using the bMail web interface: view the message, next to Reply click More (or the down arrow) and click Report phishing.

If you think you've been exposed, or can't log into bMail, forward the email to phishing@berkeley.edu

Ransomware is malicious software designed to block access to a computer system or data until a ransom is paid.

⚠ If you think you've been infected, contact us immediately at security@berkeley.edu

Information Security. Made Bearable.
security.berkeley.edu/toolkits

Berkeley | Information Security Office